3. The Specific Path of Xi Jinping's Integration of Socialist Thought with Chinese Characteristics in the New Era

3.1 Adhering to the Basic Principles of Education Integration and Mastering the "Dialectics" in Teaching

From the perspective of many college students, ideological and political classes are preaching, boring, and boring. For this reason, their lack of interest in learning is not conducive to the improvement of Xi Jinping's achievements in socialist ideological education with Chinese characteristics. Therefore, teachers of ideological and political lessons in colleges must start from the actual situation of the students, innovate working methods in a practical manner, and regard people as the local respect for students' subjective status in learning.

(1) Adhering to the basic education integration principles

The principle of flexibility

It is necessary to fully respect the personality characteristics and acceptance characteristics of college students, and realize a gradual and progressive education penetration in a way that they like. For example, transforming instruction written language into a more plain, living language, providing them with more space for discourse, and applying innovative carriers such as WeChat, Weibo, and Douyin to ideological and political classes to improve University students' acceptance of the latest theories.

The principle of Internalization

Attention should be paid to the internalization of ideological and political education, the gradual penetration of perception, introspection, and solidification. The teaching emphasizes a relaxed and pleasant learning atmosphere, and guides students to think independently with simple, direct and inspiring teaching methods. For example, in the form of film and documentary film screenings, students can experience the hard-won theory and its profound value in a more realistic atmosphere, so as to realize Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics in a quiet and silent way with effective integration in their heads and behaviors.

(2) Mastering the “dialectics” in ideological and political education

“Dialectics” in ideological and political education is to break the traditional closed classroom discourse system, and to promote the improvement of teaching results through the innovation of educational content and educational methods. Therefore, ideological and political teachers in colleges must first study relevant speeches, documents, and works on Xi Jinping's new era of socialist ideas with Chinese characteristics, grasped the basic viewpoints and spiritual essence of this latest theoretical achievement in a comprehensive and systematic manner, and became excellent experts^[2]. For example, adhering to the unity of monolithic dominance and coexistence of diversity, while emphasizing the guiding position of communism theory and our national stance and national culture, respects the students' curiosity about the world's multipolarity and cultural diversity, and carries out content consciously examining and comparing values, guiding students to make critical references and innovative development. For example, to unify theoretical education and practical education, and to strengthen the “position” construction of ideological and political education, and to strengthen red education for students by organizing visits and participating in lectures and other activities.

3.2 Doing a Good Job in Teaching Guarantee to Establish a High Degree of Theoretical Consciousness

Incorporating Xi Jinping's new era of socialist thought with Chinese characteristics into the teaching of ideological and political lessons in colleges required not only the efforts of teachers in ideological and political lessons, but also the high level of security of colleges. Colleges must be highly conscious of the theory and deeply participate in new ideological and political courses. The construction of the discourse system has created various conditions for the smooth development of ideological and political teaching. First of all, we must continuously improve teaching conditions, for example, by using the Internet learning space or inter-school cooperation, we can provide more and more innovative teaching resources for Xi Jinping's integration of socialist ideas with Chinese characteristics in the new era. The innovation of textbooks makes it compatible with the latest development of current Marxist theory, and so on. Secondly, we must do a good job in the construction of the teaching team. In addition to selecting suitable talents in accordance with relevant standards and encouraging the majority of ideological and political teachers to actively study and further study, we must also provide training for ideological and political teachers through training, tutorial classes, and exchanges in other places. The platform of learning and practice has prompted it to continuously open up ideas, innovative methods, and promote the improvement of teaching results^[3]. In addition, it is necessary to strengthen the teaching management in the school, to ensure the teaching time of ideological and political lessons, to conduct a serious and strict evaluation and assessment of the results of ideological and political education, and so as to clarify the important position of ideological and political education and to improve the teachers and students' attention.

4. Conclusion

The continuous development of Xi Jinping's socialist ideology with Chinese characteristics in the new era and the consolidation and establishment of its status has put a new test on ideological and political education in colleges. Under the new situation, universities must do a good job of integrating new theoretical results into education. In particular, effective integration in ideological and political classes can only effectively improve the education level of colleges, and cultivate more living forces for the realization of the Chinese dream.
