

Study on the Synergistic Fusion of Work of Party Building and Ideological and Political Work in Local Colleges and Universities from the Perspective of “Three-wide Education”

Wei Yuting^{1,2,a,*}

¹Yancheng Institute of Technology, Yancheng, 224000, China

²Woosuk University, 55338, Jeonju, Korea

^a472139136@qq.com

*Corresponding author

Abstract: As the crucial site for education cultivation, local colleges and universities shoulder the fundamental mission of fostering virtue; while the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education in the local colleges and universities not only goes through the important content of the work of fostering virtue but also works as an important support for the high-quality development of local colleges and universities. This research begins with the perspective of “three-wide education” to decompose the internal relationship between the work of Party building and the ideological and political work in local colleges and universities and analyzes the current situation and dilemmas of the work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities for students, so as to explore the effective approach of the synergistic fusion between the work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities.

Keywords: Three-wide education; Work of Party building; Ideological and political education; Synergistic fusion

1. Introduction

Talent is the primary resource and we must adhere to the strategy of talent power. As a highland of talent cultivation, colleges and universities are responsible for pushing national human resources' development. The work of Party building and ideological and the work of political education is very important in the development of colleges and universities. Ideological and political education is an important grabber for the work of Party building in colleges and universities; in contrast, the work of Party building is the significant labor outcome to carry out ideological and political education in colleges and universities. The two parties are dialectically unified and complement each other for the fundamental mission of fostering virtue. The profound integration between the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education has been a necessary option for colleges and universities to gradually achieve high-quality development.

2. The significance of synergistic fusion between the work of Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities under the perspective of “three-wide education”

In view of the “three-wide education”, to fully penetrate the all-round leadership of the Party into the works of colleges and universities based on the fundamental mission of fostering virtue, so as to proceed with the construction of the ideological and political working system in colleges and universities and integrate the ideological and political work into the process of education and teaching. It adheres to lead all teaching parts of education and the whole process with ideological value to form an education pattern of whole members, the whole process and whole directions, so as to broaden the new horizon of the synergistic fusion between the work of Party building and the ideological and political education in colleges and universities.

2.1 The work of Party building of colleges and universities provides an important basis for the ideological and political work

The work of Party building in colleges and universities has important significance on the conduction and construction of ideological and political work in colleges and universities. As a battlefield with the missions of teaching education and ideological and cultural dissemination, colleges and universities have a long way to go. The college students are developing world outlook and life outlook; and the grassroots Party organization should master the schooling direction of a socialist university to upgrade the advanced nature of students' thought by enhancing the work of Party building and innovating the organization form so that much more young students join the team of the Party, which provides an important foundation for the conduction of the work of ideological and political education.

2.2 The ideological and political work in colleges and universities cultivates the new generation for the work of Party building

Colleges and universities conducting the work of Party building have a great significance for the college students to learn the latest policy and spirit of the Party, to know about the history and glorious tradition of the Party and to enhance the cultivation of the correct world outlook and life outlook and the formation of the correct ideology [1]. The conduction of ideological and political work is helpful for college students to form a more comprehensive and precise understanding of the Party so as to set up a firm political belief. As a key point for educational work, the ideological and political work in colleges and universities has a key status in the work of party building. At the same time, it is an effective method for the university to cultivate the new generation. Fully implementing the education policy of the Party and cultivating the young students to be the builders and successors of the socialist cause is a supreme mission and holy responsibility of colleges and universities given by the Party and people.

2.3 Pushing the development of synergistic fusion between the work of Party building and the ideological and political work of colleges and universities

The work of Party building and the ideological education of college students makes a full display of the roles of all systemic factors through the application of the difference and similarities in the synergetics, which is helpful for creating beneficial interaction between the Party building and the ideological and political education for college students in colleges and universities to build up an interactive and complementary mode, so as to provide thinking and methods for the synergistic fusion between the two parties. Thus, we should think highly and adopt effective measures to push the synergistic education of the two parties, providing much more scientific demonstrations for the theory of synergistic education between the work of Party building and the ideological and political work of the college students. There are similarities between the two parties. In the latest opinions printed by the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China and the State Council, it is clearly stated to enhance the colleges and universities in the education for college students in the aspect of ideological and political aspects to guide students to set up a firm political stand and consciously shoulder the historical mission to be the conscious practitioners and loyal performers of socialism in the new era. The political and organisational guarantees are provided by the work of Party building and could push the cultivation of students. The implementation methods of both parties have similarities to some extent since both of them require to stick to reality and be oriented by human beings to strengthen the infection and attraction with all kinds of activities. Thus, the study of synergistic fusion would not only provide a development reform for the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education for college students but also develop a new approaches and new methods for the development of the work of Party building and ideological and political work for the college students. At the same time, it also maximally displays the role of colleges and universities in fostering virtue in the new era [2].

3. The current synergistic fusion between the work of Party building and ideological and political work in colleges and universities

The work of Party building and ideological and political work under the background of the new era is the important content of the local colleges and universities in the current period. The work of Party building and ideological and political work has a close relationship with mutual reliance and synergistic development, which not only effectively boosts the college students in the new era to build up a good value but also usefully upgrade the education quality of the local colleges and universities. In addition, both the work of Party building and the ideological and political work are important components of the local colleges and universities to foster virtue. The two parties have consistency in the basic goal. The effective conduction of ideological and political work in colleges and universities works as a positive pusher for the smooth work of Party building, and it is a key point for the work of Party building for students to gain a good effect. By far, there are some weaknesses in the fusion between the work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities. The colleges and universities must adhere to the fundamental mission of fostering virtue to master the new connotation and new requirements of comprehensive and strict governance of the Party and lead the whole process of education and teaching with a correct political direction, so as to enhance the cohesion of grassroots party organizations step by step. Boost the Party building with the joint building and push the development with the Party building, so as to struggle to push a profound integration between the Party building in the campus and the ideological and political work.

3.1 The attention to be improved

Realizing the comprehensive development of young college students is the main function of the ideological and political work in the local colleges and universities and the core task of the work of Party building in the local colleges and universities in the new era. The effective synergy between the work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities could lay a solid foundation for good value for students; on the other hand, it could also play a key role in the comprehensive development of the moral grounding, intellectual and physical ability, aesthetic sensibility, and work skills of students. However, based on the actual situation of the moral grounding, intellectual and physical ability, aesthetic sensibility, and work skills in local colleges and universities, the mode of ideological and political education in partial local colleges and universities is only limited to the form of classroom teaching, and there is a serious “separation” between the work of Party building and the ideological and political work. The teaching method of partial teachers of ideological and political courses is still the traditional lecturing theoretical indoctrination without an effective combination of question orientation, theoretical illustration and case explanation. There is no clear cognition or sufficient attention to the essence of the work of Party building and work of ideological and political education.

3.2 Singular education form

The key factor of the fusion development between the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education in the local colleges and universities is to insist on diversification. As an important venue of talent cultivation, colleges and universities need to solve all kinds of problems for students that they have during daily learning through multiple approaches, channels and methods. It should be active in the educational guidance of the ideal and belief of students to guide, cultivate, and educate people with correct thinking and public opinion. It should adhere to the strategy of “three-wide education” with the whole people, the whole process and the whole direction and consolidate the foundation of work of Party building and ideological and political education. However, there is a singular education form in the work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities. The education contents are mainly conducted with such “lecturing” and “indoctrinating” theoretical demonstration. The spatial range is only limited to such forms as the ideological classroom, secondary classroom and social practice. The goal of education is mainly based on the establishment of the great ideal of students while turning a blind eye to the ideological status and internal needs of college students.

3.3 Fusion degree to be improved

Firstly, it is inadequate theoretical synergy. There is a significant difference in the theory between the work of Party building and the ideological and political work. By now, it has failed to match both parties with the inclusiveness of the differences to push the joint development. Secondly, there is an insufficient environment of synergistic fusion, which affects the profound fusion of both parties and is bad for the long-term good development of both parties. Thirdly, there is an imperfect buildup of the synergistic team. Among the current colleges and universities in China, scientific education is still deemed as the primary responsibility of ideological and political teachers while there is no passion for the work of Party building for the students. Fourthly, there is no innovation or vitality for the mechanism of synergistic fusion. The work of Party building under the traditional mode is short of external exchange with less understanding of the fusion development in the new era, so it is hard to integrate the new thought and knowledge of the Party into the ideological and political curriculum of colleges and universities, which would further affect the improvement of the ideological and political education of colleges and universities [3].

3.4 Unobvious education effect

By far, local colleges and universities gain a bad effect on the brand building of the Party building of the grassroots organization and the establishment of a typical demonstration effect. There should be further cultivation for the activity of one college with one characteristic, including the “benchmark colleges” and “model branch”. The finding, conclusions and promotion of the work of Party building in the typical experiences are not that timely; and the pioneer and model role of student Party members should be further strengthened. There is still a gap between the team's ability of the team to Party building and the new situation and the new mission. The grassroots Party branch has not set up a good fusion mechanism with the ideological and political work of the secondary colleges, and the two parties are only limited to the political theory study, Party day activities, three meetings and one class and other routine and formal works, so there is no profound fusion process with depth, quality and effect.

3.5 Short of innovation in the synergistic development

The work of Party building in some local colleges and universities is lack innovation or creativity and is adopted with the traditional and lagging-behind work mode with singular form and the old-school method. Some Party workers in colleges and universities have weak innovation awareness, the traditional and lagging-behind concepts of the work of Party building, singular and old methods for the work of Party building and narrow thinking for the work of Party building. On one hand, some colleges and universities have not realized the importance of party building leading work. They cannot precisely master the new requirement of the work of Party building under the new situation, cannot utilize the new concept, new thoughts and new strategy of the work of Party building and cannot explore the new thought, new approach or new method for the work of Party building. On the other hand, partial local colleges and universities cast insufficient attention on the work of ideological and political education with fewer innovation degrees. The work of ideological and political education in the current stage is still adopted with the traditional education content and education method. There is a singular teaching mode, undeveloped teaching concept, inadequate mastery of integrating ideological and political factors into the teaching and the unobvious education and teaching effect of the “curriculum politics” so that the work of ideological and political education could not satisfy the development demand of the college students in the new era. The Party-building innovation has not been mutually connected with ideological and political education, resulting in the lack of innovation of synergistic development between the two parties.

4. Study on the synergistic fusion path between the work of Party building and ideological and political work for college students

4.1 Enhance the guidance of synergetics to strengthen the education quality

Adhering to the important position of the work of Party building in the whole situation could effectively push scientific conduction of the ideological and political work in colleges and universities. Keeping a foothold in the core position of the work of Party building, having a refined implementation of the work of Party building and seriously conducting the ideological education work for students, all of these hold a pivotal position in proceeding with the effective fusion of the two parties. Colleges and universities always make ideological education a priority of ideological and political work. Enhance the ideological building for students with the theoretical guidance of Marxism - Leninism and the theory of socialism with Chinese characteristics, so as to gradually upgrade the ideological understanding and moral awareness of student party members, development objects and activists to join the Party; and integrate the ideological and political education into the practice of the work of Party building [4]. Make ideological education work as an important mission to cultivate the student Party members and strictly treat ideological and political education in all stages. There is unconsciously influenced in all stages from focusing on the training of development object, the observation of probationary members of the party and the learning of inner-Party knowledge for the Party members. It is adopted with multiple testing methods to upgrade the purity of thoughts and reach the standard of socialist successors. Lead the ideological and political education with advancing thoughts and serve the development of the work of Party building at the same time.

4.2 Build up the environment of synergistic fusion to consolidate the education foundation

To upgrade the effect of the work of Party building and the ideological and political work in colleges and universities and push a profound fusion between the two parties, local colleges and universities could conduct a series of activities based on the mode of “Party building + ideological and political” to extend working platforms from multiple dimensions and shape a good atmosphere with the integration of the work of Party building and ideological and political education. On one hand, the party building theory is penetrated into the political and ideological teaching to publicize the latest study outcomes of Party building and guide college students to improve their party spirit cultivation so as to cultivate them with a firm political position and value meeting the time requirement. On the other hand, based on the requirement of the digital era, local colleges and universities could make the network as a carrier to publicize the Party building culture and ideological and political education and build up a good interaction platform with two-way communication, so that colleges and universities could timely know about the ideological situation of the students and influence the students in daily life to upgrade their political and ideological consciousness, which lays a solid foundation for the cultivation of reserve force.

4.3 Build up a synergistic fusion team to upgrade the education level

Build up a synergistic fusion development team, make the roof design and clarify the functions of all departments to jointly manage the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education for the real achievement of the synergistic development. Strengthen the team building of ideological and political teachers and boost their consciousness in learning political theory with political standards as a principle. As a stepping stone for students to enter society, local colleges and universities' scientific ideological and political education could effectively turn college students into talents; and one of its core works is ideological and political education [5]. Cultivate excellent young teacher Party members and make them expert in scientific research and teaching; enhance the ideological and political theory quality of teachers of professional courses and make them a further understanding of the curriculum politics and its importance. Consequently, it would truly integrate ideological and political factors into daily education and teaching and further upgrade the education level.

4.4 Innovate the mechanism of synergistic fusion to boost the education effect

The innovation of the mechanism of synergistic fusion would not only ensure the long-standing synergistic development of the two parties but also facilitate talent cultivation. Colleges and universities should improve the mechanism of synergistic fusion between Party building and ideological and political education with multiple forms. Firstly, colleges and universities think highly of leading connection mechanism between the disciplinary leader Party members and the workgroup of ideological and political education to attract excellent ideological and political teachers to get close to the Party through the exchange and promotion of thoughts and passing on experience so as to become the reserve force of the Party organization of colleges and universities. Secondly, regulate the supervision mechanism. There is a separation between ideological and political education and the Party spirit education during education and teaching. Hence, the synergistic development of the two parties needs a perfect supervision mechanism, so that the Party spirit education is rooted in the teaching to conduct the work of Party building and ideological and political education at the same time to reach the effect of cultivating time force in teaching and cultivating new teachers among the Party members. Thirdly, improve the appraisal mechanism. Have regular conduction of teaching demonstration work and exchange of ideas from party member group meetings to clarify the key point in the recent work; and both parties have mutual learning and comments to upgrade the scientific and rigorous nature of teaching work and ensure the correctness of ideas, so as to encourage the young students and boost their political awareness and political qualification. It would consolidate their political determination in the ideal pursuit so that they would be the firm believers and faithful practitioners of the lofty ideals of communism and the common ideal of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and they would be the social pioneers in the historical process of building up a well-being society from all direction and realize the Chinese dream of the great revitalization of the Chinese nation.

5. Conclusion

The work of Party building and ideological and political work in local colleges and universities march forward together with mutual promotion and fusion. The exploration of the working mode of "Party building + ideological politics" is formed with the working pattern and education mode under the concept of "great ideological politics" with the leadership of the Party building. Hold a footstep of the mutual connectivity between the work of Party building and the work of ideological and political education to make a further enhancement of the valuable leadership and education function of the work of Party building and further boost the infection and cohesion of ideological and political work in the local colleges and universities, so as to achieve the dual-promotion of "Party building" and "education". Proceeding with the fusion development of the work of Party building and ideological and political work of local colleges and universities under the perspective of "three-wide education" is a systemic engineer. We must focus on the new situation, solve the new problems, master the new requirement, integrate the Party building resources in colleges and universities and innovate the Party work mechanism to form an open and scientific system of Party building and ideological and political work in colleges and universities and display its synergistic linkage effect, so as to jointly develop the new pattern of Party building and ideological and political work in colleges and universities in the new era.

Acknowledgement

2021 General Project of Philosophy and Social Science Research in Jiangsu Universities, "Exploration of the Path of Relying on Public Innovation Space to Promote Innovation and Entrepreneurship Education in Local Colleges and Universities under the Background of Dual Innovation" (2021SJA1917); The 2023 project "Research on the Integration of Yancheng Red Culture into College Students' Innovation and Entrepreneurship Education Path" (XSJ202303) of the Party Building Work and Ideological and Political Education Research Association of Yancheng Institute of Technology.

References

- [1] Zhang Zhongwang. Building an Integrated Synergistic System of Party Building and Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities [J]. Education Forum, 2018(38):34-35.
- [2] Lv Ruirui, Qu Jianda. Strengthening Ideological and Political Education to Lead the Development of Party Building in Colleges and Universities [J]. Shanxi Youth, 2019(03):157-158.
- [3] Chen Meng, Yao Xiaoling. Theoretical and Strategic Analysis of the Synergistic Fusion Between Party Building and Ideological and Political Education for College Students [J]. The Party Building and Ideological Education in Schools, 2013(16):54-56.
- [4] Kang Yu. Work of Party Building and Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities Should Achieve "Six Matches" [J]. Communist Party Member (Hebei), 2019(18):39-40.
- [5] Xu Mengdi. Research on Synergistic Education between Ideological and Political Work in Colleges and Universities and Work of Party Building for College Students [D]. Mudanjiang Normal University, 2021.